

Perth: The Narrative Voice in Fiction and in the Law

DATE:	Wednesday 27 October 2021
TIME:	5 PM to 7 PM 8 PM to 10 PM (AEDT)
PLACE:	Curtin University Law School, 57 Murray Street, Perth (Room location to be notified)

The Australian Academy of Law invites all Fellows and members of the public to this event, to be held as above. Please put this event in your diary and register.

This free event will be held in person (maximum of 30) and also streamed online.

This event addresses the idea and presence of the narrative voice in fiction and in legal writing. Though not perhaps explicitly recognized, the drafting of legal writing may well involve the deployment of a narrative voice in parts of the written product, to achieve better the task of persuasion or exposition.

This event is open to members of the Australian Academy of Law and to the public, by registration, for in-person attendance and remotely by Microsoft Teams.

SPEAKERS

The Hon Nicholas Hasluck AM QC

Formerly of the Supreme Court of Western Australia, will present on aspects of the narrative voice in fiction

The Hon Justice Darren Jackson

Of the Federal Court of Australia (Perth), will present on the use of narrative in argument and judgments

CHAIR

Professor Natalie Skead

Dean UWA Law School
